August 7, 2007

Video Search Engine Fooooo added the "Suggestion" function

Based on the search words already used, Fooooo suggests other search words.

We announce that Fooooo, a video search engine that can search 42,000,000 videos out of 50 international video sharing sites, added the new "Suggestion" function.

As users type in the search word to the search box, Fooooo helps them by:

- completing the word users are typing
- showing the related key words of users' search.

The related key words shown to the users come from the past search requests. This function aims at offering more effective methods of search to the users.

Product/ Service Detail

World's top class amount of videos (more than 23,000,000). Lumping search from 50 international video sharing sites
